Attached is an article that Al Jazeera posted today entitled "SF Gentrification Pushes pushes lower-income residents into radioactive areas." The article quotes Christopher Muhammad and Marie Harrison, Hunters Point local activists, expressing concern about 2008 asbestos dust, radioactive contamination, Navy dumping of waste in the Bay, sewage on 3rd street, cancer clusters, sea level rise, Navy contractor falsification of radiation data, and other issues. It quotes some of the EPA material that Press Officer Suzanne Skadowski gave the reporter May 8. Attached is a draft set of Q&A's that address the environmental issues in the article. Below is Bradley Angel's broadcast email of the article to EJ groups. Please let me know if you would like any changes or need any other information.

Bayview Hunters Point Community Leader/Greenaction's Marie Harrision featured in Al Jazeera America news story: SF gentrification pushes lower-income residents into radioactive areas!

Please read this excellent story HERE featuring Greenaction Community Organizer Marie Harrison about gentrification and the threat to Bayview Hunters Point residents from radioactive and toxic pollution at the former Hunters Point Naval Shipyard site.

The Western States Petroleum Association recently offered $10,000 to Greenaction, but we said NO as we don't take money from polluters and we don't sell out!

That is why we rely on and ask for your support so Greenaction can continue and expand our work to protect residents, communities and the environment from pollution and injustice. Greenaction is on the front lines of environmental and climate justice struggles in Bayview Hunters Point and across the west, but it does take resources to do this important work.

Every donation large or small will help! Thanks!
